EDINBURGH: H. & J. Pillans & Wilson, 18 Thistle Street
This Society combines the "Anglo-Indian Christian Union," the "Winter Mission," and the "Assam and Cachar Missionary Society," and its objects are:

I. The maintenance of an unsectarian itinerant evangelisation among the widely scattered groups of Europeans and Eurasians in India, otherwise destitute of Gospel ordinances, at Railway Stations, on Tea Estates, etc.

II. The appointment frequently of gifted Evangelists to visit the chief centres of population and influence, bringing the Gospel to bear, apart from denominational distinctions, on all the Churches and Missions, and on the educated English-speaking Natives.

The following is a form of Bequest or Legacy, which may be adopted:

"Item, I give and bequeath the sum of to the Anglo-Indian Evangelisation Society, and the Receipt of the Treasurer of the Society, for the time being, shall be a sufficient discharge therefor."

MEMORANDA.

I.—The Annual Report is sent directly by post to Subscribers whose addresses are in the hands of the Secretary. To others copies will be sent through local Secretaries, Treasurers, or Collectors.

II.—Donations or Subscriptions will be thankfully received by any of the Treasurers or Collectors; by the Honorary Treasurer, Colonel John Robertson, C.I.E., 27 Inverness Terrace, Hyde Park, London, W.; or by the Rev. J. Fordyce, Simla, 124 Kensington Park Road, Notting Hill, London, W.

III.—Letters to Mr Fordyce sent to 7 Adam Street, Strand, London, W.C., or to 5 St Andrew Square, Edinburgh, will reach him; but the most direct address will be as above. Cheques, Money-Orders, and Postal Orders should be Crossed & Co.

IV.—Collecting Books and Cards will be supplied by the Secretary, or by Mr Wintersgill at the London Office, or Mr Stavert in Edinburgh.

V.—Contributions may be paid into the Society's account in the Commercial Bank, Edinburgh, or to Messrs Barclay, Ransom, & Co., 1 Pall Mall East, London. The Treasurer or Secretary, when advised of such payments, will send receipts.

VI.—It would be well if designations be given, as Mrs or Miss, Rev. or Esq., etc.

VII.—We are deeply indebted to the Local Treasurers and the Lady Collectors. The work of these Ladies is often a difficult one. Some have persevered for sixteen years, and others have only just entered on this part of the King's service. Let none be discouraged. They are taking an important part in a much needed work, for which we need tens or twenties to go, hundreds to gather, and many thousands to give. "Let us not be weary in well-doing; for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not."

VIII.—It was not possible to close Accounts for 1889 on the 31st of December. It would be a real favour if Donors and Treasurers could send remittances at an early date, if possible before Christmas.
ANGLO-INDIAN EVANGELISATION SOCIETY.

The Nineteenth Annual Meeting of the Society was held in the Saloon of the Royal Hotel, Edinburgh, on the 7th of April, 1890.

The meeting was opened with prayer by the Rev. Andrew Keay, Stockbridge.

The Rev. John Fordyce, General Secretary, gave a summary of the Report for 1889, and an Abstract of the Accounts.

The Chairman, in an earnest speech, which his long Indian experience made impressive, moved the following Resolution:

"That the Report now submitted to the meeting be adopted and printed as the Report for 1889; that the London and Edinburgh Committees be re-appointed, with power to fill up vacancies, and that the following gentlemen be heartily welcomed now as Directors in place of friends deceased or resigned, viz. — Major General Godby, General George Hutchinson, C.S.I., and John MacFarlan, Esq., of the Bombay Civil Service, retired, in London; and in Edinburgh, the Rev. William Stevenson, M.A., late of Madras."

J. Crommelin Brown, Esq., of the Bengal Civil Service, son of Sir John Campbell Brown, seconded the resolution, which was unanimously adopted. Mr Brown gave his testimony, from observations in the Punjab, as to the need for this Society, and the usefulness of its Agents; and referred to the important aid of the Anglo-Indian Ladies' Union.

The Rev. Archibald Turnbull, B.D., of the Church of Scotland Mission, Darjeeling, moved the Second Resolution:

"That the importance of the representatives of this country in the midst of the heathen being exemplary Christians is so great, that efforts to supply them with Christian ordinances deserves a more general and generous support than hitherto in the interest of Foreign Missions, as well as from their own peculiar claims on the sympathy of those who enjoy the privileges of Christian churches."

Mr Turnbull made grateful reference in his speech to the hearty help to Missions of Christian Europeans, tea-planters, and others; and illustrated the urgent need of the Society's work from the very serious hindrances to Mission work among the natives when our countrymen in India are neglected, and become indifferent to religion, and even oppose Christian effort.

The Rev. William Anderson, of Old Calabar, seconded the Motion, which was adopted.

Mr Anderson gave a graphic account of African experiences. Though he had never been in India he had seen, during a Missionary career of more than half-a-century in the West Indies and in Africa, the importance to the cause of Missions of a Christian example by European residents.

The Rev. Principal Cairns, D.D., LL.D., moved a vote of thanks to the Chairman; and closed the meeting with the benediction.

Note.—Sir William Muir, in his speech, suggested that it would be well if more could be done by the Society for the diffusion of Christian Literature in India. The Secretary stated that this was one of the objects of the Society twenty years ago; and not a little was done in various ways till 1879, when it was struck out, to his great regret. It is so important, so urgent, that it would be well if Sir William's suggestion should lead to its being restored.

Evangelists in India in 1890.

Rev. J. Forgan,—two months or more in Winter.
Rev. Isaac F. Row, Poona,—all the year—a very large district in Western India and the Central Provinces.

H. Rylands Brown, Darjeeling,—four months in Winter—among Tea Planters etc.

C. W. Christian, Bangalore,—all the year—Railways, etc.

M. B. Fuller, Akola,—part of his time all the year.
Mr. Frederick Nicholson, Chunar, N.W.P.,—all the year—Railway, etc.

Rev. G. W. Oxborough, Shillong,—all the year in Upper Assam.

Fawcett Shaw, Nagpore,—part of his time all the year—the Bengal and Nagpore Railway, etc.

G. J. Stone, Karachi,—part of his time all the year—Railway, etc.

The Rev. A. Garden Fraser, D.D., Raipur, Central Provinces, continues to preach as he has opportunity, and his services are entirely honorary. His son, A. H. L.Fraser, Esq., C.I., the Commissioner of the Chattisgarh Division of the Central Provinces, also conducts religious services, and both regard their efforts to be in connection with the A.I.E. Society.
TWENTY years have passed over the Society since it began operations in India. In 1870 the present General Secretary went to India as the Society’s Commissioner, and, after being alone in the work for three years, others followed from Britain, or were enlisted in India for this branch of the King’s service. Forty Ministers and Evangelists have been employed in Evangelistic work for periods varying from a few months to more than eight years. All have been more or less useful, and some remarkably so.

A full review of these twenty years would fill a volume, and even a rapid review requires more space than can be given in this Report, as the operations of the Society have been extensive, and often varied as regards Churches and plans of action.

A great part of India has been surveyed, and services have been held in many places in Southern, Northern, Eastern, Western, and Central India, and in a few places in Burmah. More districts have been taken up than it has been possible to sustain, and some of those occupied are far too large. More men and money are wanted to make extensive operations really intensive.

Whilst much has been done that has been left entirely to this Society to do, far more remains to be done, appealing at once to a patriotic interest in our countrymen in the far East, to Christian sympathy with those who are as “sheep without a shepherd,” and to Missionary zeal in behalf of the millions of heathens among whom they dwell, representing or misrepresenting the religion of their fatherland.

The Society is not going backwards, but a far more rapid progress is needed to meet the appeals that come for help. There has been an increase, though small, in the contributions both at home and in India. In India this is owing in part to the generous recognition of the Society by privileged Christians who have the means of grace near them, and partly to the success of the Agents among those who have neither Minister or Missionary within reach. It is also owing to the practical good sense of the Agents, all of whom, with only one exception, have been the medium of free-will offerings to the general fund, an exception that will be afterwards explained. The increase at home is encouraging, and it is hoped that growing prosperity on the one hand, and a deepening interest in Foreign Missions on the other, may soon warrant bolder efforts for our countrymen in India.

THE REV. DR FRASER AND THE COMMISSIONER OF CHATTISGARH.

The venerable Dr Fraser is the only Minister who conducts services at no cost whatever to the Society. His son, A. H. L. Fraser, Esq., Commissioner of Chattisgarh, often addresses meetings; and both wish that their efforts in Central India should be regarded as connected with this Society. As last Report was passing through the press, a remarkable letter was received, of which two paragraphs appeared. More extracts are given now.

SECRETARY IN INDIA.

In 1888 the Rev. ISAAC F. ROW was requested to act as Interim Secretary, and he consented, but repeatedly asked to be set free for the Evangelistic work to which he is specially called, and in which he has been signally owned of the Lord in various parts of India. Though the duties of Secretary were less congenial, he has discharged them with much zeal, and one result has been larger contributions than in any former year. The post of Secretary in India was offered to the Rev. JOHN FORGAN, of SIMLA, and accepted. He entered on his first Evangelistic tour in the first week of 1890. As the number of European residents at Simla in winter is increasing, he cannot promise more than two months on the plains; but he will superintend from Simla all the year; and it is hoped that, with the cordial aid and varied experience of Mr Row, and the hearty co-operation of the brethren, he may be able to maintain, deepen, and extend the existing interest in the Society.

THE REV. ISAAC F. ROW’S special district is the Great Peninsular Railway, about 1500 miles; but during the past year he has been at Madras and visited many places on the South Mahratta Railway, where there is much spiritual destitution. He also made a tour northwards, visiting Cawnpore, Simla, and Lahore, preaching at many Stations, and obtaining aid for the Society.
The Rev. James Shaw

laboured with much zeal and marked success for years on the Scinde and other railways on both sides of the frontier. There are no doubt fruits of his ministry now both on earth and in heaven. His occasional services among the troops at Quetta were highly appreciated by officers and men, and, better still, evidently made a blessing to not a few. The result was that he was recognised soon as Chaplain to the Presbyterian and Nonconformist troops, but without a full salary. The experiment was tried of combining the Chaplaincy with Railway work. It, however, became very obvious that the work at Quetta was too absorbing for this plan to continue. The difficulty has been happily solved by the Colonial Committee of the Church of Scotland agreeing to supplement by £100 a year the Government allowance of about Rs. 150 a month. Thus Mr. Shaw is detached from the Society with no loss to himself, and he withdraws with the grateful recognition of his services. If in 1889 Mr. Shaw secured no aid to this Society that in part supported him, what he did in former years is not forgotten. It is not the only warning, however, that the Society has had these sixteen years of the peculiar danger of combined arrangements—the work being twofold and the zeal for aid one-sided. As combined arrangements of another kind are being entered on, this danger must be guarded against by the Directors, the Secretary in India, and those whose work is twofold. At Quetta there were special hindrances, from a variety of efforts needed at a station that had not been so consolidated as the old Indian garrisons.

The Rev. Fawcett Shaw,

after several years of very efficient service, chiefly in the Baroda and Rajpootana Railways, desired a change; and it has been arranged at the recent Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Hyderabad, in the Deccan, with the concurrence of the Directors, that he will minister to the Church of his own denomination at Nagpore, and do Evangelistic work for the Society chiefly along the new Railway from Nagpore to Bengal. He will have an allowance from the Society of Rs. 100 a month. From his past career it is expected that he will be loyal both to his own Church and to the Society that has valued his services, and in part retains them.

The Rev. G. S. Stone.

The Directors have sanctioned an allowance of Rs. 75 a month to Mr. Stone, of Karachi, by an arrangement similar to that made with Mr. F. Shaw, on the understanding that he will give about a third of his time on 400 miles of railway.
The Rev. G. W. Oxborough went with his family to Assam early in 1889, first to Gauhati, and latterly to Shillong, where he can with more comfort leave his family for extensive tours. It has been necessary to raise his salary to Rs. 300 a month, certainly not too much for Assam. The Directors have also authorised a grant for the purchase of a pony. The planters have given him a hearty welcome, and they keep up their high character for hospitality; but it is not right to tax them for means of conveyance from one estate or district to another. As in 1888 Mr Oxborough has been very successful in securing aid for the Society in Calcutta; and he has received a few contributions in Assam, which may increase as he extends his tours.

The Rev. H. Rylands Brown continued as in former years four months of vigorous service among the tea planters in the Darjeeling district, and a few Railway Stations in Eastern Bengal. He tells in his Report, in Mr Spurgeon's Sword and Trowel, many touching stories of religious destitution, of hearty welcomes, and spiritual impressions, and in a small serial that he publishes—"Notes and News."

Mr F. Nicholson, who is now the only Lay-Evangelist, continues at Chunar, near Allahabad, where the Commandant, Colonel Forbes, heartily cooperates in Christian work. Souls have been won to Christ at Chunar and elsewhere. Mr Nicholson having some private means has not a full salary, but only Rs. 50 a month, and expenses in travelling on duty. Lately, when in Calcutta on private affairs, he attended a service, and met unexpectedly two soldiers who had been led to Christ in another place by his instrumentality.

Messrs Fuller and Palmer are no longer together at Akola, in the Central Provinces, as Mr Palmer had to go home to America owing to illness. Mr Fuller still does what he can for a few destitute places. Only expenses have been given these years to these devoted missionaries; but lately the Directors sent a small honorarium to aid them in their work.

The Rev. C. W. Christian is the only one of the brethren who has suffered from illness during the year; but after a short rest, he was able long ago to resume active service. His pass for the present has been withdrawn on the Madras Railway, owing to influences which it is easy to understand, though it may not be expedient to explain, as wiser counsels may soon prevail. Owing to this his work has been chiefly on the South Mahratta Railway, where there is a clear course, much need, and a hopeful welcome.

THE REV. T. W. WHITAMORE, of Madras, who, when in Calcutta, went in 1883 for a tour in connection with the Society among the Tea Planters of Sylhet and Cachar, rendered a similar service in 1889 for two months in Southern India. Far south in Travancore he found much need for a sustained evangelisation among Europeans, with many opportunities of service for Natives. He was welcomed by the clergymen of the Syrian Church, and even by their Chief Priest, Dyonysius, who listened to his addresses with such interest, that he found that the way, if he could have remained, might have been open for him all over the Church. This would be a noble field for a self-supporting volunteer; and if no one appear, a messenger of the Churches may be found if friends transmit the means of sending him.

THE WINTER MISSION,

which was originated by the Society, has not been sustained on Society lines; but others have caught the idea, and done much good. The Rev. Sholto Douglas went to India at the same time as the late Dr Somerville. In recent years, Lord Radstock has gone twice, so has Mr Müller of Bristol. Canon Wilberforce has lately been electrifying Indian audiences by orations on temperance, with which he combines the Gospel. The Rev. Mr Grubb, one of the C. M. S. Winter Mission two years ago, has been again in the far East; and now who is well known in America and Britain as a successful Evangelist, has resolved to go next winter. He hopes to be accompanied by a goodly band of Christian helpers, who are able and willing to pay their way. Though not going in connection with this or any other Society, he desires to work in harmony with existing organisations. The Directors, regarding Dr Pentecost's aims as in harmony with their own, bid him God speed in his arrangements and his intended work; and they desire that the blessing of Almighty God may rest on his labours, and the efforts of those who may accompany him.

services in 1874–5, have been often referred to in Annual Reports. In 1889 his remarkable evangelistic career, which was almost world-wide, was terminated by a somewhat sudden death in the presence of his family. It was his going to India on the Winter Mission that was the turning point of an eminently useful life. He returned to his congregation for only a short time, and then went forth to visit many lands with a commission to go anywhere in the great field—THE WORLD. A goodly volume of his sermons has appeared, with a sketch of his life by his son, now a physician in Glasgow, who went with him to India in 1874. A fuller memoir is in preparation by Dr George Smith, C.I.E., the biographer of Carey and Duff, Hislop and Wilson.

Mr William Leckie,
a much esteemed Director, after a long and useful life, passed away in autumn. He was Honorary Treasurer to the Society for many years, and he continued a Director and contributor to the last.

The Anglo-Indian Ladies' Union's Report for 1889 tells of progress in numbers, contributions, and usefulness. The direct contributions are paid over to the Society; but much good is done by sending Christian literature to the Evangelists, or to addresses supplied. This might be greatly increased, if other Christian ladies from or in India would join. There are now nearly 100 members.

Mrs Spurgeon,
on a mere suggestion of the General Secretary, at once agreed to add to her other good works the sending of a packet monthly to each of the Evangelists of Mr Spurgeon’s sermons. These they can first read, and then give away to be read at meetings where there is no minister. Much good might be done if special donations were given for sending the weekly sermons, in larger quantities than hitherto, of the Rev. C. H. Spurgeon, C. E. Stewart, and John M’Neill.

The Lady Collectors, from Eastbourne and Bournemouth to Inverness and Wick, deserve grateful acknowledgements. If more could be enlisted in this good work in the United Kingdom the Society might soon extend its efforts for our countrymen in India.
there is only one Lady Collector, a volunteer, and the wife of a Vicar. No appeal has yet been made in Ireland, but it is proposed to do so during this year of the Mission Jubilee of the Irish Presbyterian Church.

TEA PLANTERS IN INDIA

have some claim on Christians generally, but a special appeal must be made to the proprietors of tea estates and their agents. Some, both in India and Britain, do contribute, but not so as to enable the Society to make needed appointments. A few leading gentlemen in London have been consulted, and it was hoped last year that Lord Provost Muir of Glasgow, whose firm exports more tea from India than any other, would take the lead in a new movement. He and those connected with him, whilst continuing to contribute to the Society as hitherto, have arranged to maintain a Minister for their planters, who will also be a Missionary to their coolies. This generous effort is quite apart from the Society; but it is doing the same work. It is a noble plan, and will cost nearly, if not quite, £400 a year. The Lord Provost mentioned this when presiding at the Glasgow meeting of the A.I.E.S. in November. Those whose estates are not so large, and not contiguous, can scarcely be expected to do likewise; but they would virtually do the same thing by contributing to the Society, so as to enable the Directors to take vigorous action.

RAILWAYS, NEW AND OLD,

urgently need, especially the former, to be speedily manned with Evangelists. THE RAILWAY MISSION in London is an admirable Society. In India the A.I.E.S. has really been a Railway Mission for twenty years, though never able to do its chosen work to the extent needed. Christians, to whom the Lord has intrusted more of His gold than they need for themselves, might do a noble work, not only for our countrymen in India, but also for the multitudinous heathen all around them, if they would give the Directors a warrant to advance in an enterprise on which the Lord of Missions has already set His seal by a blessing in many parts of the great Eastern Empire.
NOTES BY THE GENERAL SECRETARY.

"There must be a limit somewhere!" So said the elders to a minister who had invited me to his manse and his pulpit, and I never went. Perhaps the way may be opened yet, for I do not make a collection a condition of a visit. Of course there must be a limit, but where? We must beware of placing it before helping those whom the Lord would have us to seek to save.

Ministers will, I hope, excuse a suggestion. I know that they cannot arrange to give a collection for every good cause; but for an object like ours, that touches all the Churches, they might once a year enlist the interest of their people at a prayer meeting, by telling them of our own countrymen in India, who are as sheep without a shepherd. If hearts be moved to feel, and to pray, hands may be opened to give.

The Rev. Donaldson Rose, M.A., who did good service in India in 1876, writes:—"There are few Missions of greater importance than yours; though it is hard to convince people of this."

The Rev. Dr Andrew A. Bonar allowed me an opportunity of making an appeal to his Congregation in Glasgow. There was no collection, but free-will offerings of the Lord's own gold and silver followed. After leaving for Edinburgh, Dr Bonar sent a sovereign from one of his people with a text more precious than gold. Here it is,—

"Peace, peace, be unto thee, and peace be to thine helpers, for thy God helpeth thee."

Mr J. Crommelin Brown, C.S., a Deputy Commissioner in the Punjab, has been heartily helping the Society at home, as he did for years in India. He addressed a meeting at Strathpeffer, one in Glasgow, and four in Edinburgh.

A Lady writes of a place where relatives live in India. "The life there is a godless one, no means of grace, no services nearer than twenty miles off." This is sad; but I have been at places much farther from church or chapel—fifty miles or more.

An invalid Lady sends her sovereign, and gets a friend to write, who says:—"Her interest in the work is not abated; and she prays that God's best blessing may rest on your Society."

Bristol maintains its leading place in the provinces of England, chiefly through the sustained efforts of Miss C. C. Bernard. The Annual Meeting in Mr Firth's garden at Leigh Side, Leigh Woods, was signalised by the meeting, after many days, of two clergymen who had been fellow-students, the Rev. F. Bishop, of Clifton, and the Rev. J. H. Bishop, Missionary at Trichoor, in Southern India, where the Rev. Isaac F. Row has been more than once associated with him in times of blessing.

Helpful friends have been called away during the year, and we need to have others enlisted to fill their places. Lady Collectors often refer to old subscribers who can no longer give, and they do not always succeed in filling the vacant places. The late Dr Horatius Bonar was a hearty helper. In addition to ordinary subscriptions he gave £20 in 1874; and, at a later date, he gave a large donation of his own books. I have known of more than one won to Christ in India by his writings, whilst Christians everywhere sing his hymns in translations as well as in their original English. I cannot but refer to another generous friend—Surgeon General Eyre, of Bath. A few days before he died, when unable to write, he sent a kind message, and £5 as his final donation to the Society.

Glimpses of Evangelistic work in India will appear in a separate paper. I was told the other day by an Honorary Secretary of another Society, that it is a common question in these days, Who reads Reports? I hope many will read this one; but Reports are now so many, that statements in other and briefer forms may be desirable.
ANGLO-INDIAN LADIES' UNION.

President—Dowager Lady Lawrence, C.I.
Vice President—Lady Muir, Edinburgh.
Hon. Secretary and Treasurer—
Mrs Fordyce, “Simla,” 124 Kensington Park Road, London, W.

Another year has come and gone, and the Ladies’ Union has closed 1889 with a psalm of thanksgiving, the notes of which have echoed into the yet unknown and untried one. These notes are:
—Courage, Hope, and Expectation. Our Watchword for 1890 is, Exelsior; our Motto, “I know your work of faith, and labour of love,”—“I will fill your treasures.”

But it is the past these pages are to record, the work of the last twelve months, with its results. It is but the day of small things yet with the Ladies’ Union; and will remain such if its existence and efforts fail to be recognised and encouraged. We claim both, and offer no apology for doing so. It is surely high time for the women of Britain to arise and carefully and prayerfully to consider the condition of European society in all its grades and branches as existing in India, and representing the Christian British nation amidst the tribes of the East. It is surely the work of tender, pure, exalted womanhood to minister with hand and heart to perishing souls, to the lonely, the sick, the suffering in mind, body, or circumstances.

Women of Britain, Christian sisters, the appeal is to you! Give efficacy to the often repeated prayer, “Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is done in heaven.” Arise and do that Divine will, by helping to promote the kingdom of God, establishing it in human hearts, yet void of it in the East.

India offers a wide field for all Christian effort. Its resources are being developed with wondrous rapidity, and absorb ever-increasing European labour. The demand is constantly supplied from this country, but without duly balancing the temporal and spiritual aspect, the loss and gain incurred.

Thousands of our countrymen in India are quite contented to live without God in the world, hearing no gospel preached, having no Christian privileges or friends, and but too often neither a Bible nor prayer-book. They pass away as they have lived, in many cases, unwept and even unknown. This is not an imaginary or sensational statement, it is a grave, sad fact, which reflects unfavourably on our privileged island, and calls for immediate preventive measures and efforts. The Anglo-Indian Ladies’ Union lends a helping hand in grappling with this evil.

To the critical reader of the statements that follow, the whole Union may appear insignificant; and its progress very slow. The little band of workers at home and the Evangelists in the Indian field think otherwise. During the past year many very emphatic expressions in letters have reached us, as to the great blessing the Ladies' Union proves, its existence and work being considered of vital importance, only requiring greater development and liberal support. It is a silent unobtrusive work progressing slowly but steadily.

The new year of 1889 found 60 members on the roll, the 31st December marked 28 additions, bringing the number up to 88, and these were chiefly gained through the monthly meetings at the Secretary's house.

The Anglo-Indian Evangelisation Society is reaping the yearly increasing contributions from the Ladies' Union, amounting this year to £70, 3s. 7d., as shown on the Balance Sheet—being £23, 16s. 10d. more than in 1888.

Besides this sum, handed over to the A.-I. E. Society, there have been various efforts by members, for India, without drawing on any subscriptions and donations.

Special prizes of Bibles and books have been sent for four Sunday Schools in charge of Evangelists; and toys, texts, and cards to a fifth, who express themselves grateful for this form of encouragement in their work.

Several members and some friends interested in the work, send regularly good reading to special addresses given, or to the Evangelists for distribution. One lady sent the whole of this year's Good Words, another a large parcel of miscellaneous pamphlets and periodicals. Numerous packets of illuminated texts, large and small, a few even framed, Christmas cards, leaflets, letters, booklets, etc., were sent out for the festive season, as in former years. Some of the large texts sent, adorn many bare walls in Indian homes, and speak at once to the heart and conscience of the inmates. These silent messengers of love are ever greatly appreciated. To Mrs M. in Edinburgh, and to all the other generous donors of these seasonable and valued gifts, most cordial thanks are due and given.

Mrs Lamb's special effort of having a Drawing-room Sale of ladies' work, to increase the funds, deserves recognition and thanks. It yielded £11, 7s. 10d.; and is worthy of imitation. The result well repays the trouble.

The usual Christmas Sale in the Hon. Secretary's house could not be held, as the box from India did not arrive. A few articles on hand, together with some local contributions, were displayed at the December Meeting, and yielded £1, 9s. 6d. by their partial sale.

The Thanksgiving Cards are becoming more popular, but not to the extent desired. A fair trial would prove a decided benefit to the holder of one, as also to the Ladies' Union. Some members have filled two cards during the year, and taken a third for 1890.
The Balance Sheet gives all the items of income and expenditure plainly and fully, to which the reader’s attention is invited.

While thus giving a bird’s-eye view of the past year we have yet to record, with sorrow, that one blank was made in our number by a beloved member at Eastbourne passing within the veil. Her second daughter has now gracefully taken the dear mother’s number, next to her elder sister on the Member Roll, for which we feel very grateful.

The meetings on the first Tuesday of each month continue to be held by the Hon. Secretary, and appear to be enjoyed as before, toned by the Word and prayer; nor has matter ever been wanting to lend fresh interest in the many-sided work.

It requires no argument to show that Christian efforts cannot be carried on without gold and silver; but to secure these is not the only aim of the Ladies’ Union. It desires and prays for the spiritual welfare of Europeans in India, using every opportunity and means to accomplish it, sowing beside all waters with a holy enthusiasm, and leaving results with God.

These things saith the Son of God:—“I know thy works, and charity, and service, and faith.”

W. M. A. M. FORDYCE,
Hon. Sec. and Treas.

The Rules of the A.-I. Ladies’ Union are very few, and it is hoped will ensure a large membership:—

1. Only Anglo-Indian Ladies, who, at any time of life, have resided in India, are invited to become members.

2. Every lady joining the Union shall pay 2s. 6d. to entitle her to membership. This sum is not paid again.

3. Every member is to give or gather, as the minimum annual contribution, 5s., as much more as possible. Ladies already collectors for the A.-I. E. Society and subscribers to it, are not expected to pay extra to the Ladies’ Union.

4. Members are expected to make the Ladies’ Union and Evangelisation Society known, to enlist members, to send Anglo-Indian addresses to the Secretary, to send periodicals or other literature to isolated Europeans, or the Evangelists, and to help the good work, as opportunity is given.

5. Members are earnestly solicited to spend a little time, alone or in groups, on every first Tuesday of each month, in earnest prayer for the Ladies’ Union and all workers for India in this country, for the Evangelists in India and our own countrymen scattered far and wide over that land.

The Hon. Sec. and Treas. very earnestly requests that all contributions be sent to her, at latest, by the 1st December of each year without reminder. Any delay beyond that date causes considerable trouble to the auditing of the Accounts, and the preparing of the Report, which should be issued in January.

All contributions are acknowledged by formal receipts.

W. M. A. M. FORDYCE, Hon. Sec. and Treas.
LETTER FROM THE REV. A. G. FRASER, D.D.

The following extracts from a letter to the Secretary will be read with special interest, as the writer has had a prolonged Indian experience; and now, at an advanced age, gives his valuable services freely to what he regards as a most important branch of Christian work in India:

"I have been living for some time past with my son, who is Commissioner of the Chhattisgarh Division of the Central Provinces. Chhattisgarh is, in point of area, about one-half of the Central Provinces. It includes fourteen native states—feudatories. The population of the British territory is 3,115,997; that of the native states, 1,496,708; in all, 4,612,705. The average density of population is 128·7 to the square mile. The Bengal-Nagpur Railway, now under construction, and large portions of which are already open, runs right through Chhattisgarh. There are a good many European engineers employed on the line, but they are like 'angel visits, far between.' The head-quarters of the Division is Raipur. There is a Church of England edifice here, but the chaplain visits the place once in four months. There is a pretty large European community here. Bilaspur is another district in this Division, and has also a pretty large European community; it has no church edifice, nor does any chaplain visit it. Sumbalpur is the third district in the Division, and 180 miles from Raipur. It has no church edifice, nor is it visited by a chaplain, though there is a pretty large European community there.

"In Raipur there is a Mission of the American German Missionary Society, which works exclusively in the Hindu language. At Visrampur, between Raipur and Bilaspur, there is a Mission of the same Society as the one in Raipur. In Bilaspur there is a Mission of another American Missionary Society. These are the only three Missions in this great Division. They all work exclusively in the vernacular languages.

"When I came to Raipur with the Commissioner of the Division, we commenced an English preaching service, which has been held every Sabbath, when we are in the station. When I was absent at Simla, the Commissioner carried it on regularly. We regard it as in connection with the Anglo-Indian Evangelisation Society. It has always been well attended by Europeans and by English-speaking natives. Of the latter, there are a good many here: Extra Assistant-Commissioners, Educational Inspectors and School Masters, Barristers and Pleaders in the Courts, Superintendents, Head-Clerks and Clerks of Court, and subordinate clerks and others. This is the only English service held here for the preaching of the Gospel. All who attend, natives as well as Europeans, are greatly interested in it. It opens the door for much conversation with the natives on the claims of Christ, and on His teaching. When we tour through the Division in the camping season, I hold services for the preaching of the Gospel in any place we visit where there are Europeans. I have preached several times in Bilaspur. The Commissioner has also held services there for Europeans. I have preached also in Sumbalpur. Both in Bilaspur and Sumbalpur the Gospel services have been attended by English-speaking natives as well as Europeans. I mention the attendance of English-speaking natives that your Society may know that their agents reach the more intelligent natives as well as Europeans. These English-speaking natives do not attend the vernacular services of the Missionaries; and so they are only reached by your Society. They have a great deal of influence among their fellow-countrymen, and it is most important that the Gospel should reach them. I wish you would dwell much on this fact in your appeals to the churches at home. I regard it as a very important one. In this large Division, one-half in point of area of the Central Provinces, there is no preaching of the Gospel in English except by your Society. No agent of your Society but myself has ever penetrated into this extensive Division, containing three large Districts under Deputy-Commissioners. I am an old man of seventy-six years, and forty-five of these have been spent in India. By the good hand of God upon me, I am well and strong; and I shall continue to do, with His help, what I can in connection with your Society. I remember your own work of faith, and toil of love, and patient waiting for Christ, in connection with the Anglo-Indian Evangelisation Society; and the memory of it always stirs me up, and quickens my life, love, power, and zeal."

Dr Fraser further refers to the Secretary's work in, and now for, India, and urges the sending out of more Evangelists:
"There ought to be now two for the Bengal Nagpur Railway, and two for the district portions of this great division of Chhattisgarh. That is the least number that could work with any effect in this Division. Oh that your Society had any just conception of the extensive spiritual destitution of this Division alone: it is almost as great in other portions of the Central Provinces.

"Your plan of sending out young men for two years to exercise their gifts, and see spiritual destitution, previous to entering upon their special ministerial work is a very good one. Will it be carried into action or only talked about? The other plan of sending out single men as agents for your Society is equally good—men without the incumbrances (very great in India) of wives and children, which necessarily gives them local preferences and attachments, and makes them settle down in comfortable cities where there is no great destitution. Will this plan be carried out into action or only talked about?

These questions do not come from me, but from myriads of spiritually destitute Europeans in India. I know some single young men, full of spiritual life and power and zeal, who are sent out by private Christian—two or three uniting for the purpose—on £5 a month. At the present rate of exchange £5 a month is considerably more than Rs.50. A single young man, with a solid school education, exclusively devoted to evangelisation work, can live on that sum. The Roman Catholic Missionaries, who almost possess ubiquity, live on much less. Such young men, as they passed through places where there are Christians, would get additional help in money, clothes, books. Schemes, however, are easily devised: it is the carrying them out into efficient action in which any difficulty lies, and this difficulty your Society could easily overcome. It ought to have fifty such agents at work in India to-day."

The closing paragraphs are given in full. Dr Fraser’s testimony regarding Alex. Mackenzie, Esq., C.S.I., will not only gratify his friends, but gladden those who desire to see Christian men in high places in India:

"You are personally acquainted with Mr Mackenzie, the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces. He was Home Secretary to the Government of India when you were at Simla, and one of your most active supporters in the Union Church. He is, as you well know, a man of great decision and firmness of character, and of unbounded kindness of heart. He exercises, with the utmost Christian prudence, which never oversteps the limits of his political position, a most direct and powerful influence, moral and Christian, in the Central Provinces. These provinces have never before been so highly favoured in this respect as now. He is a most able administrator—an eminent illustration of the truth that the true Christian, who is sealed with the Spirit of God, must ceteris paribus be the ablest man in every department. The Commissioner of Chhattisgarh is well known to you. You have heard him preach the Gospel in the Union Church at Simla. He is well known in Scotland from the yeoman service he did to the cause of Missions in India by his speeches in the General Assembly, and his addresses in many of the Churches.

I should like to see the Anglo-Indian Evangelisation Society able to meet the spiritual destitution of Europeans in India. Your Society must remove this deplorable destitution, or it must continue to the eternal loss of myriads of souls. Hoping that your prayers and labours may be more and more successful in building up that Society.—I am, dear Mr Fordyce, yours very faithfully,

"A. GARDEN FRASER, D.D."

EXTRACTS FROM INDIAN REPORT.

The Rev. J. Forgan has issued at Simla a brief Report for 1889. After referring to the work of the Society since 1870, he says, "It may be said to have fully established its claim to a recognised place among the Christian agencies in this land. It owed its origin to a deep feeling of the need of some special effort being made to provide for the spiritual wants of our countrymen along

* It seems right to give the venerable Doctor’s statement regarding young men in full; but it is well to add that, if I understand the views of the Directors correctly, they would favour somewhat larger allowances even to unmarried men who are qualified for this difficult work. In regard to local aid, whilst hospitality is generously given to the agents and gratefully accepted, all contributions must be forwarded to the Indian Treasurer.—J. F.

CONTRIBUTORS AND COLLECTORS are respectfully reminded that the accounts must be closed as early as possible after the 31st December, and they are earnestly requested to transmit their contributions before that date, in order that these may be acknowledged in the Report for 1889.

Several sums received in London and Edinburgh are acknowledged under the names of the localities where the donors reside. Other contributions are placed under London or Edinburgh when sent from places where there are not Associations.

DUMBARTONSHIRE *

£16, 2s. 6d.

*Miss Brown collects for so many places, that the only name for her district, is the name of the County.

Hearty help comes from other parts of Dumbartonshire. — Helensburgh, Garelochhead, Row, &c. If other counties would do as well, the Society would rapidly multiply the seed sown in India.

JOHN ROBERTSON, Colonel, Honorary Treasurer.

JOHN FORDYCE, General Secretary.

London, 19th March 1890.

E. & O. excepted.
the railway lines and in remote parts of India. And if there was need for such special effort twenty years ago, there is still greater need to-day. The vastly extended railway system of the country has made increased demands on the energies of the Society, and will continue to do so to a still larger extent as new lines are opened. The Society has, in fact, an ever-widening field opening up before it, and will require to increase considerably the number of its Agents, if it is to do the work that lies to its hand. Nor are the wants of the field less urgent than when the Society commenced its work. Indian life is trying and unsettling and beset with peculiar temptations for our countrymen, even under the most favourable circumstances, and it is so to a far greater extent in situations where they are almost or altogether cut off from the ordinances of religion.

The evangelists of the Anglo-Indian Evangelisation Society bring the Gospel within the reach of large numbers of our countrymen in India, who are very inadequately provided with these ordinances, and within the reach of many more who have no opportunity of attending any other religious services except those which the Evangelists conduct.

"While we are under obligation to the heathen around us, our kinsmen according to the flesh have a very special claim upon us. The work is indeed one and the same whether carried on among Europeans or natives, and is making for the extension of the Kingdom of Christ in India. European influence is either the greatest help or the greatest hindrance to the progress of the Gospel among the native population, and from this point of view the Anglo-Indian Evangelisation Society is indirectly a Missionary agency of the most powerful kind. The Society is purely evangelical and thoroughly undenominational in its character, and we are thankful for the increasing interest that has been manifested in its work by European Christians belonging to the different Protestant Churches, Episcopal, Presbyterian, Methodist and Baptist, throughout India. We are thankful also for the increasingly liberal support the Society has received in this country, and especially that the subscriptions for 1889 are larger than those of any previous year. There is much land still to be possessed however, and there is room for India taking upon herself a larger share in the support of the Society's work."

PUBLIC MEETING IN BOMBAY.

In January the Rev. Isaac F. Row arranged that the Rev. Messrs Christian, Fuller, and Fawcett Shaw, should meet the new Secretary—the Rev. J. Forgan. A public meeting was held in the Y.M.C.A Rooms, with the Society's friend and the young men's President—H. Conder Esq.—in the chair. After prayer, offered by the Rev. J. E. Robinson, the Rev. I. F. Row said: "The object for which the Society was formed, expressed in a few words, is to send portions to those for whom nothing is prepared." Their work was mainly along the various railway systems throughout India, where hundreds and thousands of their countrymen for months at a time never had a minister of the Gospel among them. Those in such a city as Bombay could have no idea of how great a need there was for the existence of such a Society as the one they had gathered to hear about that evening. He had had the opportunity of personally seeing the want of it, especially among the planters all along from Octacumund to the South Coast. In Coorg also, where there was a large number of English-speaking people, there was a similar want of ministers. And this was the case among the tea planters in Assam, where, in some places, the people had never seen a minister of the Gospel among them. Those in such a city as Bombay had had intention to be short, he had spent seven whole months in these regions and visited places in which it took sixteen to seventeen days for a letter to reach him. Everywhere he saw and heard of the want of workers. At a jute factory he visited in those districts there were several Scotchmen, who stated that the last service that was held was conducted by one of the ministers connected with the Society."

Rev. Fawcett Shaw was the next speaker, he mentioned that the work done by the Society was chiefly in the small stations, where there are scarcely a dozen persons, amongst them they seldom find a single follower of Christ. New lines are being opened up, new stations are being formed, and so it is important that the Society should have more workers.
Anglo-Indian Evangelisation Society.

Rev. C. W. Christian referred to the fact that the Society was entirely "undenominational and unsectarian." He told of a letter he once received from a lady, containing a subscription, who wrote at the close of the letter, in small writing, "from one whom you led to the Saviour's cross." These lonely, desolate ones frequently say to the evangelist "we wish you could come oftener."

The Rev. J. Forgan, the newly appointed Secretary of the Society, in alluding to the work in general, drew the attention of those present to the funds of the Society, which, though in a slightly better condition than last year, yet needed augmenting. He referred specially to the fact that though Bombay never would allow itself to be second to any city in India, yet it stood far behind Calcutta in respect to subscriptions to the Society just now, and he hoped the people would make an effort to regain their primary position in this respect, and help on the Society in their laudable endeavours to work for the Master.

The President then briefly addressed the meeting, and during the course of his remarks mentioned that from experience he did not think there was a single large station on any railway line in India where there are not at least a few thorough Christians to be found, and who felt the want of such work as the Society was doing.

The Meeting then closed by the Rev. T. H. Greig, Senior Chaplain of the Church of Scotland.

Contributions received late for 1889, to re-appear in the report for 1890.

TESTIMONIES OF DISTINGUISHED ANGLO-INDIANS.

"The object of the Society is second to none in a Christian point of view. If the majority of our countrymen and countrywomen in India were Christians in heart and in deed, what an army of Missionaries we would have, how speedily would India be evangelised."—The late Rev. Alexander Duff, D.D., LL.D.

"The difficulties which beset the subject should rather lead us to bestir ourselves to devise a remedy. The united efforts of Protestants of all Churches in the good work offers the best hope of success."—The late Lord Lawrence, G.C.B., G.C.S.I.

"I hope that the work of the Society in future years may have a greater and more powerful tendency to bring to the scattered communities of Englishmen throughout India a keen sense of their duties to themselves, their country, and their God, as well as to the natives of India with whom they were brought into contact."—The Right Hon. the Earl of Northbrook, G.C.S.I.

"I regard the operations of this Society as intensely important. No one could pass through the country without being sensible of the sad dearth which existed in the spiritual ministrations for our fellow-countrymen in India."—Principal Sir William Muir, K.C.S.I., LL.D., D.C.L.

"The work before the Society is immense—to bring Christian ordinances, at least occasionally, to Europeans dwelling here and there in small groups all over the vast continent of India.—Sir Charles U. Aitchison, K.C.S.I., LL.D.

"To those who enjoy the inestimable privileges of a regular Christian ministry it seems to me a very incumbent duty to aid in providing a similar blessing to those of their countrymen who are without it."—H.E. Sir Henry W. Norman, K.C.B., now Governor of Queensland.
